BUDGET 2025 AT A GLANCE

Fianna Fáil delivered a budget that will support you and your family with cost of living pressures, delivering sustained action on issues such as housing, health and our economy, all the while protecting Ireland's future.

2 x €125 Energy Credits

We are aware that energy bills remain high for households right across the country. That's why in Budget 2025 we want to ease this financial pressure with a further two energy credits of €125 one before and one after Christmas.

Cuts to USC

Fianna Fáil in Government is making more cuts to USC. The 4% rate is being cut to 3% - the largest ever reduction in the USC rates.

Rent tax credit increased to €1,000

Fianna Fáil in Government introduced the Rent Tax Credit, providing vital support to renters across the country. This will be increased for the second time from €750 to €1,000 per year.

€12 weekly increases in pension and core welfare rates

Fianna Fáil in Government has championed incremental increases to the State pension and prioritised the well-being of older people and the most vulnerable. This continues in Budget 2025 through measures that include a €12 rise in all weekly social protection payments.

Free schoolbooks

The groundbreaking free schoolbooks scheme first introduced by Fianna Fáil is now expanding to include Senior Cycle students, meaning every student in first and second level education now receives free schoolbooks. This represents a saving of up €740 for students and families.

Higher rate of income tax threshold raised

Budget 2025 will deliver better outcomes for those who need it most. The threshold for paying the higher rate of tax will be raised by €2,000 to €44,000.

1,000 new Garda recruits

We increased funding for the recruitment of a further 1,000 Gardaí and up to 130 Garda civilian staff next year.

Childcare fees reduced by €1,100

Funding for the National Childcare Scheme will increase by 44%, meaning parents will see full-time childcare costs reduce even further by an additional €1,100 in 2025.

Inheritance tax threshold increased

Budget 2025 will see the inheritance tax threshold increase from €335,000 to €400,000 for children, with further changes for siblings and relatives.

Free public transport for under 9s

Fianna Fáil is committed to promoting public transport use wherever possible. That is why we have extended free public transport in Budget 2025 to all children under the age of 9 and retained the 20% reduction in transport fares for adults, and 50% for young people ages between 18 and 25.

Free HRT saving women up to €840 annually

Fianna Fáil has led a revolution in women's healthcare over the past four years, and in Budget 2025, we are taking further steps by providing free Hormone Replacement Therapy (HRT). This initiative will save women between €360 and €840 annually, significantly easing this financial burden.
